WHAT IS THE EPQ?

It is an independent research qualification completed over a period 120 learning hours which gives you the opportunity to study something you are interested in but have never been taught.

WHAT DOES IT INVOLVE?

Under the guidance of a supervisor, you are required to choose a topic of interest and:

- Write a 5000 word report OR write a 1000-1500 word report and produce an artefact
- Complete a production log
- Give a short presentation at the end of your project

IS THERE ANYTHING I CANNOT DO?

- A topic which you have already studied or will be studying
- A topic you are already researching for another subject e.g. History coursework
- Socially sensitive topics
- Anything where you have a personal axe to grind

HOW IS IT ASSESSED?

Evidence for assessment comes from your production log (completed using Projectq), your 5,000 word report/1,000 word report and artefact and your presentation. You will find details of the assessment objectives, available marks on page, evidence and a summary of what makes a good project on pages 6 and 7. Your projects are marked by the centre then a sample is sent to an external moderator to check the marks. You will not find out your grade until results day.

WHAT WILL I GAIN FROM COMPLETING THE EPQ?

Good question! Whether you are planning to go to university, college or straight into employment once you have finished sixth form, the EPQ is an excellent qualification to have. Why?

- It gives you the opportunity to gain knowledge and understanding of an area you wish to learn more about
- You will learn new skills and develop ones you already have
- You can gain up to 28 UCAS points A*
- You choose the topic and format so you can use it to learn something specifically relating to your chosen future career/employment or university course
- You can talk about it and use it to demonstrate your knowledge, skills and personal attributes in job applications, your UCAS personal statement or college applications
- It gives you something to talk about in job or university interviews
- The qualification can give you an advantage when it comes to applying for jobs, university or college

TAUGHT SESSIONS

Although the EPQ is an independent research qualification you will receive a number taught sessions aimed at providing you with the information and skills required to produce a successful project. These include how to reference and create a bibliography, evaluating and reflection on your own performance and how to give a good presentation. Individual support will also be provided by your supervisor during your timetabled lessons.

WHAT SKILLS/KNOWLEDGE WILL I LEARN/DEVELOP?

- Working independently and research skills
- Communication skills (written and verbal)
- Managing your time and organizational skills
- Problem solving, decision making and analysing information/data
- Using sources, referencing and creating a bibliography
- Report/essay writing
- How to give a good presentation
- Evaluation and self-reflection

- Makes use of a range of appropriate presentation skills, responds well to questions and displays a clear and in-depth knowledge of their chosen topic.

THE PRODUCTION LOG AND REGISTRATION DETAILS FOR PROJECTQ

The Production log is a document that you use to record your journey through the project process. It provides the 'backbone' of your project and is completed online using Projectq.

The EPQ is a process-based qualification. The outcome, whether it be an essay/report or artefact is important but your production log is just as important. It is used to chart your progress from initial ideas, through your research to completion of your project and evaluation. The log as a whole is yours, but some pages are for completion by school staff. You will see the pages of your log along the right hand side of the page on Projectq.

In order to use it you first need to register and set up an account.

How to register

- 1) From your Internet Browser type the web address: <https://my.projectq.co>
- 2) Click on Register
- 3) Enter Course Reference:
- 4) Enter Course Code:
- 5) Register your details

When registering please make sure that you:

- Register using your full name and capital letters
- Use an e-mail address that you check regularly
- You input candidate number

Note: The username you use when you log on is the e-mail address you registered with.

PRODUCTION LOG PAGES

Your supervisor and coordinator have access to your log at all times and each page of your log needs signed off by your supervisor as you complete it. Once a page is locked amendments cannot be made unless your supervisor or coordinator unlocks it. The following pages contain an overview of each page of the log. You will receive further information on completing each page throughout your EPQ journey.

RECORD OF INITIAL IDEAS

This is where you log your initial ideas for your project. It is ok if you have more than one idea. However, if you do it is important that you make the reasons for taking one idea forward over the others.

PART A: CANDIDATE PROPOSAL

This page is part of the formal approval process of your project. It is important that you are as clear and detailed as possible and set clear aims and objectives for your project.

PART B: SUPERVISORS COMMENTS ON CANDIDATE PROPOSAL

PART C: CENTRE COORDINATORS APPROVAL OF CANDIDATE PROPOSAL

These pages are for completion by your supervisor and the coordinator. You need to have your project proposal approved before you do anything further. You may find that the coordinator approves your project subject to certain recommendations. Please be aware that if this is the case you must make sure you take on board the recommendations and act on them. If your supervisor or the coordinator are not happy with your proposal they may ask you to resubmit it.

PLANNING REVIEW

This is where you identify and map out your next steps after your project proposal is approved. You will need to create a detailed project plan containing tasks you will need to complete for your project along with deadline dates for each of the tasks. You will also need to make sure that you include and take on board any official deadline dates set by the centre. You will receive information on how to create a detailed project plan at the appropriate time.

MID-PROJECT REVIEW

By this stage you should have undertaken most, if not all of your research. Upon completion of this page you should be ready to start producing your outcome, or you may even have already started. Please remember to give reasons and explanations for any changes/modifications made to your project plan. It is advisable to use the following headings as a guide when completing the first part of the page:

- Successes
- Failures
- Changes/additions

PROJECT PRODUCT REVIEW

This page gives you another opportunity to measure how well you have managed your project process since your Mid-project review. It is used to record whether you have reached the goals/aims/objectives you set yourself. Again, it is advisable to use the headings identified previously as a guide when completing the first part of the page. You must ensure that you receive feedback on your final draft before you prepare and complete your presentation. It is the last chance to gain official feedback on your project you're your supervisor so that you can improve it. It is also essential that your 5,000 report/artefact and report is completed prior to completing your presentation. Please remember that the pages within your production log need to be as detailed as possible!

PRESENTATION RECORD PART A

This needs completed in advance of your presentation. You will need to make sure that you take on board the information and advice given in the lesson on 'Giving a good presentation'. It is also important that you receive feedback from your supervisor on your plans for your presentation and rehearse it before you complete it. Further details in relation to the presentation will be issued nearer the time, but if you have any questions feel free to ask your supervisor.

PRESENTATION RECORD PART B

This page is for completion by your supervisor once you have completed your presentation.

SUMMARY AND REFLECTION

These pages need completed after your project work and presentation is completed. The first thing you need to do is give a summary of your project. The second thing you need to do is reflect on all that you have learned – both about the specific issues and content of your project and about project management in general and the skills you have developed. Further information on exactly how to write your summary and reflection will be issued nearer the time.

CANDIDATE DECLARATION

This page is for you to complete to confirm that the work is all your own.

SUBMISSION CHECKLIST, TAUGHT SKILLS AND RECORD OF MARKS

Your supervisor will complete these pages

FINALLY...

Once all of the pages are complete and signed off you will need to download your log into Word and print it off. Please make sure that you click 'Download Production Log'. Once you have signed the relevant pages you need to hand it to your supervisor by the final deadline along with your finished project, a copy of your presentation and anything else relevant to your project.
